OLDER AMERICANS MONTH

FLIP THE SCRIPT ON AGING: MAY 2025

A time to honor the contributions, resilience, and strength of older adults. This annual observance shines a spotlight on the vital role older adults play in our communities and challenges us to think differently about aging.

In 2025, the Administration for Community Living (ACL) is leading the celebration with a powerful and thought-provoking theme: “Powered by Connection.” But one of the most impactful components of ACL’s ongoing work is their “Flip the Script” campaign, which confronts ageism and reframes how we talk about and treat older adults.

The Flip the Script initiative aims to disrupt harmful stereotypes about aging. Too often, society defines older people by limitations or loss, overlooking their capacity for growth, creativity, mentorship, and community leadership. Through this campaign, ACL urges individuals, organizations, and communities to challenge outdated assumptions and replace them with positive, inclusive, and empowering narratives.

Older Americans Month is more than a celebration; it's a call to action. By embracing the Flip the Script mindset, we can create a culture that values aging, respects experience, and champions the potential of every individual—regardless of age. Let’s take this opportunity to honor older adults not just for who they were, but for who they are and continue to become.

For more information and resources, visit the Administration for Community Living’s website at <https://acl.gov/oam>.
